

2012 GCSAA Education Conference & the Golf Industry Show

See your future in a new light

“It is not our intent to radically change this golf course. We’re trying to uncover it, not recover it. We’re trying to take what Ross left and perhaps bring it back to the character and definition of what was once here. In short, we’ll bring the strategy back . . . and reinstate its character.”

*- Bill Coore
Coore & Crenshaw*

courtesy Brad Klein, Ph.D.

Uncovering lost features

“We’re not coming here to institute our ideas. We’re coming here to try to return the character that was Pinehurst No. 2 in its earliest years. We’re not doing anything contrary to what’s already been seen at Pinehurst in the past.”

– Bill Coore

2012 GCSAA Education Conference & the Golf Industry Show

See your future in a new light

“I’ve had some nice things happen to me in my golf career. Having the opportunity to work on Pinehurst No. 2 is right at the top.”

*- Ben Crenshaw
Coore & Crenshaw*

Hole No. 16
courtesy Robert Farren, CGCS

courtesy Robert Farren, CGCS

See your future in a new light

“The restoration might just be the most important project the golf world has seen for years.”

*- Adam Lawrence
Golf Course Architecture*

See your future in a new light

2012 GCSAA Education Conference & the Golf Industry Show

courtesy Robert Farren, CGCS

1962 US Amateur Championship
Labron E. Harris, Jr.
courtesy USGA

2012 GCSAA Education Conference & the Golf Industry Show

Hole No. 1
courtesy Robert Farren, CGCS

Hole #1 Aerial
courtesy Robert Farren, CGCS

See your future in a new light

“My mouth literally falls open when I see the incredible work that they have done.”

*- Mike Davis,
Executive Director USGA*

Hole No. 12
courtesy Robert Farren, CGCS

courtesy USGA

See your future in a new light

2012 GCSAA Education Conference & the Golf Industry Show

courtesy Robert Farren, CGCS

Hole No. 2
courtesy Brad Klein, Ph.D.

See your future in a new light

“They took one of the most unique golf experiences in the world – and by going back to the way it used to be, they made it better.”

*- Matt Ginella
Golf Digest*

Hole No. 6
courtesy Brad Klein, Ph.D.

1999 US Open Championship
Payne Stewart
courtesy USGA

Hole No. 15
courtesy Robert Farren, CGCS

courtesy Brad Klein, Ph.D.

2005 US Open Championship
Tiger Woods
courtesy USGA

See your future in a new light

“More than 100 years in the making, Pinehurst No. 2 never has looked better.”

*- Michael Whitner
Boston Globe*

courtesy USGA

See your future in a new light

Hole No. 1

2012 GCSAA Education Conference & the Golf Industry Show

courtesy Brad Klein, Ph.D.

1999 US Open Championship
Phil Mickelson
courtesy USGA

Hole No. 13
courtesy Brad Klein, Ph.D.

See your future in a new light

“My work will tell my story.”

- Donald Ross

courtesy USGA

See your future in a new light

Back-to-Back U.S. Open Championships in 2014.

CLICK HERE FOR MORE

CLICK HERE FOR MORE

2012 GCSAA Education Conference & the Golf Industry Show